

Human Resource Development and Faculty & Organizational Development as part of the Executive Leadership Academy seminar series present leadership-focused webinars developed by the Center for Creative Leadership.

PRE-RECORDED WEBINARS

Sessions run from 3 p.m. – 4 p.m. Sign-in at 2:45 p.m.

INVESTMENT: Free (Programs are centrally funded and offered free of charge.)

TARGET AUDIENCE: Deans, directors, department chairs, executive managers and supervisors.

LOCATION: 10 Nisbet Building

SEVEN KEYS TO LEADING IN TURBULENT TIMES

Monday, June 1, 3 p.m. – 4 p.m.

Globalization, talent shortages and roller coaster market dynamics are just a few of the complex challenges facing today's businesses. How can leaders thrive in this turbulent environment? Research by the Center for Creative Leadership shows a new set of leadership skills will be crucial for success.

SELLING YOURSELF WITHOUT SELLING OUT

Monday, June 8, 3 p.m. – 4 p.m.

Hard working individuals and groups are often not adequately recognized for their skills and contributions. Self-Promotion is an important skill to gain visibility, communicate value for you and your team and is essential to being an effective leader. Unfortunately, a 2005 CCL survey confirms that many leaders associate self-promotion with bragging, showing off or selling out. At the same time, self-promotion is seen as important to career success.

MANAGING CONFLICT

Monday, June 22, 3 p.m. – 4 p.m.

Conflict is inevitable when people work together because they have different points of view, values, and ways of working. Resolving conflicts can be extremely difficult because of those differences. But it's a challenge that successful leaders learn to address.

MAXIMIZING THE POTENTIAL OF YOURSELF AND YOUR ORGANIZATION

Monday, July 13, 3 p.m. – 4 p.m.

Has today's complex world left you wondering how you and your organization can be successful in the long run? Strategic leadership is the key. In this session, you will learn a common definition for strategic leadership. You will assess yourself, your team and your organization on key factors for strategic leadership. You will learn practical ways to enhance strategic leadership in yourself and in your organization.

ACTIVE LISTENING

Monday, July 20, 3 p.m. – 4 p.m.

Listening well is an essential component of good leadership. You can become a more effective listener and leader by learning the skills of active listening. Working relationships become more solid based on trust, respect, and honesty. Active listening is not an optional component of leadership; it is not a nicety to be used to make others feel good. It is, in fact, a critical component of the tasks facing today's leaders.

ANATOMY OF CHANGE

Monday, August 10, 3 p.m. – 4 p.m.

Do you see change as a danger, a challenge, or an opportunity? How people deal with change - both creating it and responding to it - is a function of identifiable preferences. The upcoming webinar session, delivered by Dr. Christopher Musselwhite, will present the research-based Change Style Indicator®, a tool which measures three distinct styles of how individuals prefer to approach and manage change.

BUILDING AN AUTHENTIC LEADERSHIP IMAGE

Monday, August 17, 3 p.m. – 4 p.m.

Many leaders assume that image building is superficial and therefore unimportant, but you can benefit from knowing how you come across to others and making improvements if necessary. This doesn't mean creating a false image, but recognizing genuine aspects of yourself that should be coming across to other people—but aren't.

Webinars are now available for academic & support staff leaders!!!